

Abstract Submission Guidelines

In accordance with CDC Covid-19 recommendations, May 27, 2021, PAC/LAC Annual Conference, Quality of Life for Families XXIV: Support and Empowerment in Perinatal nursing, will be virtual.

PAC/LAC is accepting poster abstracts that focus on innovative and creative approaches in perinatal healthcare or perinatal quality improvement.

Focus Areas

Perinatal Covid-19 challenges and solutions, Academic study, research and evaluation, maternal mental health, health prevention, access to care, best practices, policy and advocacy, or quality improvement approaches.

Abstract Content

Abstracts should be brief (approximately 250 words) and include the following information:

1. Full title of Poster
2. Name(s) of presenter(s) along with credentials, job title, and contact information (phone and email)
3. Focus area
4. Background: State the problem and provide relevance.
5. Methods: Explain the design of the study/program and how it was implemented.
6. Results: Provide quantitative/qualitative data to date. Note when final results are expected.
7. Discussion: Summarize relevant findings, cost/staff implications, lessons learned and barriers.

Deadline

Submit abstracts by April 29, 2021 via email to gpakhyan@paclac.org

Notification of Acceptance

Notification of acceptance will be made via email to the primary author no later than May 3, 2021. If your abstract is accepted for a poster presentation, you will receive detailed instructions about creating your poster. If accepted, author/authors must register, at a special rate, if planning to attend the full conference. We require at least one representative to be present at the scheduled time in the virtual room, to answer questions during the poster session.

For more information, contact Gayane Pakhyan at gpakhyan@paclac.org